

How insulin works in a healthy person

Insulin is a hormone that helps control the blood sugar level in your body.

It is produced by beta cells in one of our organs called the pancreas (insulin factory).

Insulin moves sugar (glucose) into the cells, which is then used to generate energy and maintain normal body functions.

