The Couch Potato has everything he needs within reach of his sunken couch cushion. But when the electricity goes out, Couch Potato is forced to peel himself away from the comforts of his living room and venture outside. And when he does, he realizes fresh air and sunshine could be just the things he needs.

Dot Unplugged

By: Randi Zuckerberg
Publisher: London: Walker Entertainment, 2020
Section: Early Literacy Picture Books
Call No.: English DOT

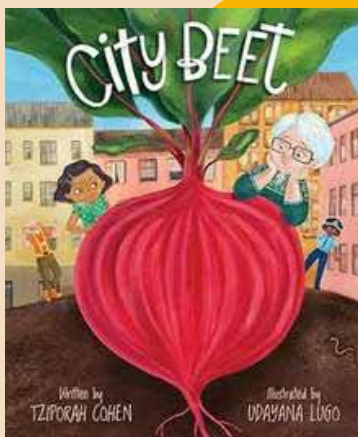

It's pouring with rain and now the power's gone out at Dot's house. What should they do to pass the time with no tech? It turns out that improvised game keeps Dot's family so entertained, they just might decide to stay unplugged a bit longer!

The Screen Thief!

By: Helen Docherty and Thomas Docherty
Publisher: London : Alison Green Books, 2021
Section: Early Literacy Picture Books
Call No.: English DOC

Screens away, it's time to play! When the Snaffle arrives in the city, she just wants to play. But nobody notices her: they're all too busy staring at their screens. The Snaffle discovers that she likes screens, too, as a snack! She quickly chomps down every last phone, tablet and TV in the city. She even eats the cinema screen. People are horrified, until they realise that life is much more fun when you actually play together!

City Beet

By: Ziporah Cohen
Publisher: Ann Arbor, MI : Sleeping Bear Press, 2023

Section: Early Literacy Picture Books
Call No.: English COH

Victoria and Mrs. Kosta plan to bring a beet salad to a community potluck. They grow the beet in their garden, taking care of it all summer. On the day of the potluck, they struggle to harvest the large beet, but with some help, they manage. The story highlights the importance of community and teamwork, with a recipe for beet salad included.

This puppy is HAPPY! So happy it wants to shout about it! Riding high on a cloud of joy, it wants to sing on a swing, skip through a puddle, and chase after bubbles. With so much happiness in its little heart, what won't it do?

Now Go to Sleep

By: Matt Carr

Publisher: London : Scholastic, 2021

Section: Early Literacy Picture Books

Call No.: English CAR

Shirley Sheep (Head of Sleep) comes to the rescue in this brilliant follow-up to Now Wash Your Hands! The kids from Mrs Moo's class are running wild - it's bedtime, but none of them can sleep - one's had too much sugar, another is afraid of the dark, one can't put his game down, one read a far-too-scary bedtime story and another - a crocodile - actually just has too many teeth to clean! In each house on Sparrow Street, the grown-ups are repeating 'now go to sleep', but nothing is working.

for parents

Title: The Art of Screen Time

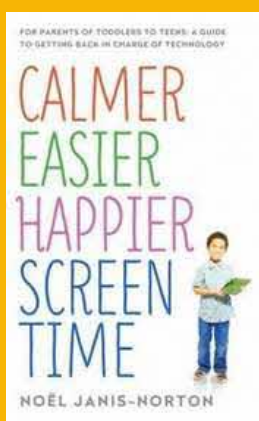

By: Anya Kamenetz

Publisher: New York, New York : PublicAffairs, 2018

Section: Adults General Non-Fiction

Call No.: English 004.678083 KAM -[COM]

In The Art of Screen Time, Anya Kamenetz – an expert on education and technology, as well as a mother of two young children – takes a refreshingly practical look at the subject. Surveying hundreds of fellow parents on their practices and ideas, and cutting through a thicket of inconclusive studies and overblown claims, she hones a simple message, a riff on Michael Pollan's well-known "food rules": Enjoy Screens. Not too much. Mostly with others.

Title: Calmer, Easier, Happier Screen Time

By: Noel Janis-Norton

Publisher: London : Yellow Kite, an imprint of Hodder & Stoughton, 2016

Section: Adults General Non-Fiction

Call No.: English 649.1 JAN -[FAM]

In Calmer Easier Happier Screen Time, Noel adapts her proven parenting strategies to this most complex of areas. Using the latest scientific research to show just how addictive the digital world can be for the developing brain of a child, she uses the calmer, easier, happier techniques to help parents wean their children away from their electronic devices and get back in charge.

Viral Parenting

By: Mindy Mcknight
