

High blood sugar levels cause your pancreas (insulin factory) to work harder

Eating food high in sugar causes blood sugar levels to rise, forcing the pancreas to produce more insulin to control blood sugar level.

